

to seal the inclosed, & to forward it by his earliest opportunity. - But should Madam Van-der-Myer not have found M^r. Belgoni out. then if the Chevalier will retain the letter for a few days with him, Miss Porter will try to trace her poor friend's address, by a channel which has just occurred to her; and would then hasten to communi-cate the result to the Chevalier Van-der-Myer. - Her thanks to his Goodness in this affair, what in her mind, with how she feels to be Miss & Mrs. Melbourne.
