[1918]

Saturday 28th Sept.

My dearest Ruth, I fear you may be two or three days without letters from me as I addressed the last two to B'head - I rather fancied you would be likely to stay there over the week-end when you found yourself in media re, as the Latins would say - not that I'm any wise disapprove your decision as I quite expect you ought to get home. You won't imagine have seen anything of Arlie, which is a pity; I've no doubt you were kept busy at St John's &c & have been a great blessing there. I'm glad you went & glad I didn't urge you. I hope you understand my reluctance to decide for you, as I think at some moments you would like me to do; if either of us can put a consideration that hasn't occurred to the other we naturally mention it; for that husband & wife ought to set upon each other in doubts & difficulties : but not for decisions.

I believe in the principle of Vernon Whitford & think it as important for husband & wife to retain their moral independence as for other people.
However there is no fear that you won't do that now I am phrs.

Yesterday was a good day. I found a letter from you at the Club in the morning & another came here (in consequence of an arrangement I made at the P.O.) in the evening. Yes - I'm quite delighted by events in the Balkans & in Palestine. We read the first news from Gen. Allenby together didn't we & the hopes of then have been amply fulfilled. The defeat of Bulgaria is more important at present as it would involve the railway to Constantinople ; it's a question of moral I expect ; if they ~~still~~ stuck to it I don't if we could force a way to Sofia though they have been half whacked already ; but perhaps they won't stand the music - then the whole

Eastern policy of Germany would inevitably collapse. We had only the bare news yesterday of the American advance of 11 kilometers - which sounds a good start, particularly as an attack was expected in those parts. It looks rather as though the preliminary attacks on the Hindenburg line are intended primarily to fix the Hun reserves. However we shall know a lot more in a month's time. I dreamt last night of someone telling me the war would be over in 2 weeks; but even in a dream I couldn't swallow that optimism.

I spent most of yesterday on the shore - a glorious day. I took the men to play football there in the ~~after~~ morning & in the afternoon we had sports. They were a great success & very amusing:- 1st event; the starters stood to attention & at the start of a whistle began to runless; when made they ran to the sea rollers in it & came back. 2nd event - a Splash Race, run in about 2 feet of water there were three heats - about half the men tumbled full length in the water. The winner in the final fell twice. 3rd event:- footed mule - quite a good race, the last 250 yds down wind & all on beautiful firm sand. It was lovely to watch. 4th Three Legged Race. The course involved an obstacle in the shape of a low sand dune which had to be circumvented.

The leading pair came down a steep bank of sand in the most magnificent fashion but lost their balance & collapsed. The men were greatly pleased by this race & a most unlikely looking pair won. 5th Cockfighting on horseback. The Major mounted Wilson & Pemberton Knibb & after a most stirring contest the first two were defeated. Then the men joined in a hard gent sport. In the 2nd round I mounted a cockeral & took on Pemberton & Knibb; we had a good fight which was evidently very amusing; it was said that I was "int for blood" but ^{the} not ~~conservis~~ sharing done more than presented a resolute face to an opponent who knew all the tricks of the game - & it was a game I had never played before. In the end we crashed down together but he was bottom so I was victor though it must have been more unpleasant for me to bury my face in the sand than for him to hit it with the back of his head. 6th event - Steeplechase.

This ought to have been a very fine race. The course went up a short steep sand bank along coast, down one side of a formidable gully & up the other & after a descent from that in blaring a spectacular leap a final scramble up a 20 ft slope of very steep loose sand. But they were not a very fine lot of competitors. They quickly became exhausted & showed very little dash in descending steep places.

We had a final event, after I had had a private event with the Major up the aforesaid steep bank & leapt down it in two great strides from lightness of heart; an ascent & descent of the same bank.

Altogether the men greatly enjoyed themselves & so did I so I was very glad my entertainment went so well. Such is war.

I must write no more now or I shan't catch the post.

My love to all at West Brook, especially your father. We know our destination & it is highly satisfactory; & pretty place I believe.

Great love to you my dearest one.

George.
