

Dearest

I expect this will be a short letter because I am going to London tomorrow with Bice and Mill to the Auto & Craft again. We are not going up till the 10.30 but I shall take Clara out after breakfast because Violet is nedy & its so miserable for her to have to dawdle round the garden with the child. I am also going to sleep with Clara for a bit because she has been giving Violet some rather broken nights and she does look tired.

Dr Wiatt came this evening. He says Clara's tummy is a bit out of order and we are to knock off the beef juice a bit and put her on to a malted food and he is going to give her a medicine. He told us to weigh her which we have done and then he will come again in five or six days when we shall weigh her again and see how she is getting on. He said she is beautifully made and ought be all right and that we were keep her from standing too much. Her legs have hardly straightened out completely yet but I dont think he thought it mattered.

I am very glad I had him and I hope we shall soon get her quite right but he said you had to go slowly with a baby and not put it onto a fresh diet too soon. He was awfully nice with her and she liked him and did not cry at all.

I <sup>have</sup> had a letter from your Mother. I see we must go to Bickenhead & not expect them to come South to see you, her neuritis she says is bad again. What a trouble it is for her.

You had in that can better get your leave to Bickenhead as it will be your farthest point and you can buy you ticket down. I hope that is not one of the obvious remarks that you are apt to find taying.

Father has made a very fine design for a new bowl we are going to talk over colour seems for it this morning. He always likes help and advice over colouring because he says he is not a colourist. Mother always used to talk it over with him and advise. I believe myself that he could do it just as well as any one if he thought he could. I am going to stay and get him to see people this time I think. I did two very good tests of my own on my last plate.

I have found L'Avant Gueson but not Radwick Hudson. I think I must hunt again at the Hall for that or get Mr Green to.

I wonder if you will get this letter. By saying
I am to forward none you must expect to come soon. It will be bliss to be together again. It will be a great refreshment now it that will last on after you have gone.

I shall know more about your life after you have talked and told me about it.

Your Mother told me that Trafford has been back on leave. I am glad I think Daisy thought it would be put off longer than it has been.

It after breakfast time & I shall have no more time to write.

I love you dear

Your loving

Ruth.
